

Payments

Payments can be initiated from a Customer or an Invoice. In either case they can be quickly made and posted. Special options are also covered.

Overview

PestaRoo allows you to initiate a payment from Customers and from an individual invoice. If you are opening the mail, you'll typically use the Customer approach. If you are posting WOs then you'll typically create the payment from the invoice area.

Payments in PestaRoo are very easy and fast to enter: typically you'll on the invoice to be paid, enter the check number and click 'Post'. It is that easy! Partial payments, over payments, and installment payments are all supported. The voiding of payments due to bad checks can be easily done. Payments are automatically tallied onto a Deposit report. If you leave a payment only partially entered, PestaRoo will warn you and give you the chance to review or delete the partial data.

Payments Stated from a Customer's Perspective

Many payments are initiated from Customer Choose Name, for example, when opening the mail.. Starting at Home Page, click Choose Customer, and find the customer you need. From here we can click to view existing payment(s) or click to create a new payment. Click "New Payment". This will take you to a new blank payment for this Customer.

Starting a Payment from a Invoice Perspective

You can also trigger a payment from the data entry view of an invoice. For example, let assume you are entering the hand-written info from your tech and he/she also has a check to pay for the service. From an invoice data entry, click "Post & Pay Now". This will post the invoice, and create a payment record for the customer.

Entering a Payment

The Payment Data Entry layout shows two portals. A portal is a window into another area of the program. Here you can see a portal of all the unpaid (or partially paid) invoices for this customer. On each portal line, you'll see the primary info that describes the invoice, including the date, original amount, the service, where the work was done, and the current balance due. Also on this line will be a button to "Pay" (If the button shows 'Details' see the section below on Installments.) To make a payment against this invoice click "Pay." in the upper left portal. Notice that the invoice now disappears from the top portal and re-appears in the lower portal. Also notice that the amount to pay is assumed to be the balance due (which is frequently correct.) You may edit this Amount to Pay if they are only making a partial payment, or an overpayment in advance. If there is another invoice to pay at this time, click it down to the lower portal also. If you inadvertently select the wrong invoice, you can put it back up in the unpaid invoices by clicking "omit".

So, the upper portals shows every invoice (or installments) with a balance due. The lower portal lists every invoice about to be paid on this payment. Below the lower portal is a running total of the selected invoices. This is called the Sum of PLI (Payment Line Items). The field Sum of PLI should match the field Check Amount.

Next, type in the check number or a note like “cash” in the How Pay field. Double check that you are correct. To finish the payment, click “Post”, and you are ready for the next payment. Once you click “Post” the payment may no longer be edited. The payment is not actually made until you actually click “Post”.

Making an Installment Payment

Installments are fully supported in PestaRoo. (The installment schedule is created from within the original invoice.) When an invoice to paid has installments associated with it the ‘Pay’ button changes to a ‘Details’ button. If you click on the “Details” button, the individual installments will be shown in a special portal at the upper right. Next to each installment will be a “Pay” button. (To hide installment details, click “Clear”. To make a payment against one or more installments, click “Pay” in the upper right portal. A payment can include regular invoices and installment invoices.

Payment Notes

A payment is not complete until it has been posted. If you return to Home Page before posting the payment, the payment will be deleted. If the payment you received is very close, but not the exact amount, you may choose to Write-Off the balance. Or, the little remaining balance can be saved for the next payment.

UnPosting Payments

When you post a payment, PestaRoo recalculates the balance due for each invoice used and resets to balance due for the customer. In general, payment records should never be deleted. But there is a time when it is OK to delete: if you accidentally created a payment for the wrong customer, AND the lower portal is empty (or you make it empty) Once a payment is posted, it becomes locked, and can not be changed. But if you have to make a change, like to correct a check number, go to managers access where you have ability to unPost a payment, and then make any needed changes before Re-Posting the payment. Re-Posting a payment does NOT pay its associated invoices twice.

Bad Checks

If you get a bad check, return to the payment where you used it and click on the button:

This button will undo the payment. The payment will be retained but flagged as a bad check. This will put the amount due back on the invoice(s). When you receive new funds, you will create a new payment.

Deposits

Each new payment is flagged for deposit. Once a day you will go to Home Pages >> Select Report to Print >> Deposit Report. This will find all Payments that have not yet been deposited and then print them. You will want to keep these Deposit Reports in a notebook.

UnPosted Payment Warnings

When you launch PestaRoo in the morning one of its many processes is to test for UnPosted payments. An UnPosted payment is an entry that has been started, but not completed. You will be given a chance to Review them or Delete them. Normally you will review them and then complete or delete each one manually, from Manager’s Access.
